To say that the pages which follow contain a photographic history of the Brookwood academic year 1970-71 is not enough.

It is our purpose to provide a one-year living record for the students and a medium through which the school may be presented to others. Yet we have tried to capture the motivating forces behind the accomplishments and advances this year ... those people who have made Brookwood School a success.

Dedication

The annual staff would like to dedicate our first annual to everyone who helped make Brookwood possible.

The first Brookwood annual, The Warrior, is dedicated to everyone who helped in making our school possible. It would have been unfair to dedicate The Warrior to just one person since so many have helped us.

The annual staff would like to say a special thanks to:

- Mr. Lyle
- the Board of Directors
- the Board of Trustees
- the faculty
- the parents
- the students
- to the many friends of Brookwood.

Alma Mater

Mid the pines there stands an emblem,
Of the noble, true, and right,
Lifting up her values ever,
Hail to thee, the blue and white.

Future years may bring us triumph,
Days ahead may bring us pain;
But the memories of thy teaching,
Ever with us will remain.

We salute thee Dear Old Brookwood!
We will e'er to thee be true,
To the morals and the standards
Of our own dear white and blue.

An Impossible Dream?

The interested parents had their first meeting in November of 1969. This was the beginning.

In May and June of last year, our first building began really to take shape, when the steel arrived, the network of plumbing, air conditioning, and heating equipment followed.

The faculty had its first meeting in June of 1970, and Brookwood obtained its charter on February 23, 1970.

The first day of school was Tuesday, September 8, for orientation, registration, and purchasing of texts and materials. Thus - Brookwood began!

It started like this . . .

In recognition of the construction of Brookwood's first building, a Ground-breaking ceremony was held on May 1, 1970. Present were Board members, parents, the Thomasville Mayor, faculty members, and a representative from the Chamber of Commerce.

. . . meetings were held . . .

the students
arrived . . .

. . . and
Brookwood began.

Mr. James E. Lyle

Mr. Lyle, I don't feel good ... Mr. Lyle, may I go home? ... Mr. Lyle, do I have to come to school tomorrow? ... Mr. Lyle, I lost my dime in the candy machine ...

Questions like this, day in day out. How could one man survive for nine months, and still be ready to answer a dozen more from any student, teacher, or parent? Mr. Lyle did, and for this we are very thankful.

Helping Hands

MRS. FAYE MILLER

There are no other secretaries in the whole world as good as the ones Brookwood was blessed with.

Secretary wasn't their only job. They were nurses, teachers, advisors ... You name it, they were it. All this on voluntary basis! It would have been very hard for Brookwood to keep going if it weren't for these two ladies.

We would like to thank Mrs. Faye Miller and Mrs. Lequite LeGette for all their work.

The student body selected The Totem Pole as the name for the school's newspaper. The first edition was published October 2, 1970. There was a total of eight papers published during the 1970-71 school year.

Except for special occasions, The Totem Pole contained these features: interviews, editorials, sports, class news, club news, gossip, jokes, astrological forecast, and current society.

The last publication viewed the highlights of Brookwood's first school year.

Warriors Put Effort Into First Year

The Brookwood boys' first season in basketball was a losing one. Despite good team spirit the ninth grade had four wins and nine losses. Four of the games played were against big schools and we lost all four, though there were some close games. Our two highest scorers were David Stoddard, who made a total of 148 points and Tommy McAuley who scored 113 points.

Brookwood's seventh and eighth grade also had a losing season with two wins and three losses. Brookwood played twenty-two boys and had a total of 708 points.

Next year we plan to give our opponents some stiff competition.

Coach Encourages Warriorettes' Team Spirit

The girl's basketball team was very successful this year. With one week's practice behind us, we tackled our first opponent, Southwood, with vigor. The ending score was forty-six to sixteen in our favor. This was Brookwood's first victory.

We deeply appreciate the team spirit, and spectators support.

The 1970-71 seventh grade cheerleaders were led by captain Nelray Rice and co-captain Mardi Rodenbery.

Although the seventh grade cheerleaders had little experience they tried hard. Practice helped and experience came. Brookwood boosters, encouraged by the cheerleaders roused the spirit and led the team to victory.

The 1970-71 Varsity Cheerleaders were led by captain Vicki Willis and co-captain Kay Whigham. The sponsor was Mrs. Faye Miller.

The cheerleaders led the spirit at all the games and pep rallies. The boosters helped to lead our first basketball team to many victories.

The Varsity Cheerleaders were thrilled because they had received so much help from parents, faculty, students, and others. They decided to start a tradition to be continued each year "The Brookwood Booster Award". The first recipient was Mrs. Mary Edna Courson.

During 1970-71, Brookwood started at the first grade and went through the ninth. The ninth grade was composed of nineteen students.

Some of the memorable events of our first year at Brookwood were: the Halloween Carnival where our exhibit, the Spook House, captured the second prize.

Our science field trip to Cape Kennedy was a blast! We had a talk on spaceships and the many tasks of the astronauts. After the talk we had a tour of Cape Kennedy and saw Apollo 14 on its launch pad.

Our Spring Dance was really great! The seventh, eighth and ninth grades were invited.

This is one school year that the ninth graders will not forget. Our first year at Brookwood.

The eighth grade had a very successful year. We sponsored a Sweetheart Dance and made a lot of money which we donated to the library fund.

We made several field trips this year, two in science and a trip to Tallahassee with our modern history class.

Our civics class conducted the Student Body elections which turned out great!

Everyone will agree that the eighth grades first year at Brookwood was really a blast!

Seven A

This year has been a very fun and enjoyable one for the seventh graders. We thank all of the teachers for being patient with us throughout the year, for we all know it wasn't easy.

This year has been a new experience for the students of the seventh grade. We have all learned a lot and have met many new friends.

The high point of our school year was the trip to Okeefenokee State Park with our science teacher Mr. Worthington. While there we learned about the history of the swamp and its animals.

We have all had a great year and hope that next year will be as memorable and as great as this one has been.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade had a good year. We have devoted a good portion of each day to the language arts program.

We presented the narration and tableau of the nativity as our part in the Christmas Parents' Night program.

In the spring we visited Florida State University and were conducted on a most interesting tour. We felt very fortunate to be the first elementary school pupils to be shown through the Nuclear Research Center. Lunch in the students union cafeteria was another highlight of our day.

The class enjoyed a cook-out and swimming party at the home of Libby Horne.

We hope to have many more profitable and enjoyable school terms together as this, our first year, has been.

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade had a good year. We have done many things together. One of our first class events was the country store in the Halloween Carnival, which won first prize. Among many of the other exciting events of the year we had two parties. The Christmas party and a swimming party at the Scott's house at the end of the year.

September 9, 1970 - school bells rang out for the first fourth grade class of Brookwood with an assembly. Our class started out with nine students.

October - Rain for Carnival! Our class made "dishgardens" at Amy Stone's house and sold them at the Country Store. Country Store won first prize for its display.

November - Trip to Thomasville's Library.

December - David Mason brought us a tree which we decorated like a Swiss tree.

January - Talent Show - Amy Stone, Sam Harper, Martha Scott, and David Mason entered.

Trip to Apollo 11!

May - Party at Philip Watt's pool house!

June 4 was our final day and we were dismissed with eighteen children.

Third Grade

Various projects, activities, and field trips have kept Brookwood's third grade busy this year. In October we made black cats and pumpkins for use at our Halloween Carnival.

In December we had a German Christmas with a tree which we all helped to decorate.

Later in the year we visited Tallahassee to view the Apollo 11 lunar module. We learned much from this special exhibit and were particularly interested to see the size of the capsule, the seating position and clothing of the astronauts.

Our first year at Brookwood has certainly been fulfilled with many new experiences, ones we will remember as we move through the years as Brookwood Warriors.

This year we have made new friends, discovered new ideas, developed a better love for reading, and shared many thoughts and joys together.

We have studied the world around us by reading, reporting, and taking trips. The study of communications took us to the Thomasville Telephone Company and the Times Enterprise newspaper. We learned how products are made on large assembly lines by visiting Flowers Baking Company. The visit to the Thomasville Public Library increased our desire to find new treasures in books.

Our greatest project of the year was the play, "Tommy's Adventure" where Gene Strickland played the leading role.

Class of "19___"

The first graders part in the Halloween Carnival was to have a "Fish Pond." We had some great prizes and the children (all ages) had fun. To celebrate Thanksgiving, they had a play. It was their first play and everyone thought they did great.

All the grades participated in the Christmas play and each grade sang one special song. The following day the first grade presented another play titled The Animal Christmas.

A Dream Come True

Many people felt that the first day of school at Brookwood would never come. A few people had vague hopes of creating a school that would increase in size and be a leader in the field of education. Through many people working long and tiring hours and battling many doubts, what seemed to be an "impossible dream" was finally created.

Progress Being Made

Getting ready for next year, new plans started to be made. On the top of the list was a new building to make room for the increasing enrollment. This building includes a gym, cafeteria, and a number of classrooms. This is only a small step towards the expansion of Brookwood, but many more are sure to follow until Brookwood becomes one of the leading schools.
